Dulwich College

Issue 9

February 2007

Books to Enjoy : The updated copy of Books to Enjoy is now available. These are the books chosen by you, the Dulwich College Lower School boys. Have you got something to say about a book you really enjoyed????

Dulwich Despatch - Lower School publication The latest copy of the Dulwich Despatch, your own magazine, is now on sale. At only 20p, this offers great value. This green issue is particularly helpful for Science and Geography as it is packed with useful information. (Yes, it is printed on recycled paper!) This term funds go to 'Sydenham Garden – a growing community' We are already collecting items for the next Dulwich Despatch, to be published next term. This is an excellent opportunity to see your name in print and be immortalised—remember that there will be plenty of copies sold on Founder's Day! Articles, book reviews, quizzes, jokes, all entries are welcome. How about compiling news of your exciting holiday into a travel guide format with photos? For inspiration, come and look at back copies held in the Lower School Library. Every item used will have a small edible prize. Good luck!

Book Sale : We are holding a book sale in the Lower School Library. Grab yourself a bargain with paperback at 20p, cassettes 50p-£1 and videos £1. All proceeds go to the World Wildlife Fund.

You need to say the colour telephone joke out loud: Green, green ... green, green. Yellow. Purple, purple, purple. Pink .

There were 2 crisps walking down the road. A bus stopped and the driver said "want a lift?" They said "No thanks, we're Walkers!"

"Doctor, doctor, I feel like an apple" ... "Let's get to the core of this"

Book & Breakfast Club

Why not join the Book and Breakfast Club which takes place on Thursday mornings 8:00am to 8:30am in the Wodehouse Library.

Breakfast will be provided—croissants and fruit juice.

Sudoku : Every Wednesday there is a Sudoku challenge. Come and get your entry at lunchtime. This competition is a timed event with the time recorded when given and when returned completed. There will be two levels with one quite difficult and one a bit easier, so everyone can join in. A small edible prize will be awarded at Monday's assembly.

Carnegie Medal Shadowing : The Book and Breakfast Club is reading from the "Long List" of recommendations for the Carnegie Medal. There are some really fantastic choices this year, with something for everyone to enjoy. We are already talking about who our favourites are for the Short List (20th April). The timing is much better this year as the winner will be announced 21st June.
